George:

What do you think of this question. I may have more soon.

Is influent and effluent temperature sampling conducted by probes and if so, how often are readings available ?

When are calibrations/verifications of the temperature monitors performed? What, if any, drift has been documented/corrected? Submit a copy of the calibration/verification records.

JHN

Subject: Questions for conference call next Friday

Hi Jim and Howard,

I have attached some questions that can serve as the basis for discussion for our call next Friday beginning at 10:00 AM, for which I had previously sent you a call-in number.

Feel free to call or e-mail me back prior to the meeting to discuss or answer any of these questions. I may also have a few more questions to add early next week. Thank you
